Digging Deeper for Lent Exploring a Practice for Lent Stations of the Cross

What we know as the Stations of the Cross (or the Way of the Cross) has its origins in the early church of pilgrims walking in the footsteps of Jesus' passion in Jerusalem. Along the way they would stop and pray at places where a significant event is believed to have occurred. It is thought that in the Middle Ages the Franciscans brought this tradition to Europe. This made it possible for the faithful who could not travel to Jerusalem to experience in a virtual way the Stations of the Cross by following a signposted path around the inside and/or outside of the church. From the 18th century all Catholic churches were permitted to erect the Stations of the Cross within the church building or in the grounds of the church. This led to visual depictions we see in our churches today, with the number of stations fixed at 14. There are many popular versions of the stations available and people can pray them in church or at home, privately or in a group.
